The 30th Annual Oyster Roast Sponsored By Fairview Baptist Church / White Oak Equipment, Inc., Will Be For The Benefit of Kenneth “Beau” Barbeau.

Kenneth “Beau” Barbeau, age 37, lives in Stafford County with his wife Tracy and their 7 year old daughter. On June 28, 2013, he was on his way home from work when a tree fell crushing the cab of his truck and trapping him inside. This accident left Beau with a broken neck and crushed spinal cord which resulted in him being paralyzed from the chest down. He spent the next three months in the hospital recovering from surgery and undergoing intensive rehab in Washington, DC. Beau is currently at home, but continues outpatient therapy in Washington three days a week. Tracy must drive him to these therapy sessions which requires her to work a modified schedule and to rely on the help of family and neighbors to care for their young daughter.

Before the accident, “Beau” was always helping others. Now, however, he has to count on his wife and daughter to help him with simple daily tasks, such as showering and dressing. He continues to strive to get stronger through therapy and struggles with the fact he is unable to provide for his family as he did before this horrible accident.

The loss of income, travel costs, and unreimbursed medical expenses have prevented the family from keeping up with their monthly household expenses. Funds raised will be used to help meet their medical expenses, to outfit his car with handicap controls to enable him to drive, and to procure needed medical equipment to support his rehab regimen at home.

In addition to their current hardship, a few years ago Beau suffered a broken back from a fall, and the family also lost an infant daughter. Nevertheless, the family’s faith is strong, and they truly consider it a blessing to be this year’s Oyster Roast recipient.
